Semi-Synthetic Coolants High Oil, Less Irritating

Supercool #3000 semi-synthetic coolant concentrates are designed for machining ferrous and nonferrous metals over the entire machining spectrum.

Supercool #3000 coolants are remarkably stable once emulsified into water. The blue emulsion lubricates and cools very effectively, thereby extending tool life and improving part finish.

Supercool #3000 coolants contain an exceptionally high percentage of oil, which combined with the balanced Ph, minimizes irritation risk.
